Never Fear The Darkness

In the end there is darkness, no white light no hell only darkness. We cease to exist anymore, all there is, is darkness. Whatever you did in your life the good the bad it does not matter anymore, you could be a saint or a serial killer everyone gets the same darkness. Is it fair? No, but there is no other option, there is one silver lining though. When we die our life does get flashed before us and yes right before your eyes but it is not when you are still breathing. See when you are first introduced to the darkness you get to see everything you did in your life and every moment you loved and hated. All played before you in hopes you can come to terms with your life better and hopefully achieve tranquility every agent like me try to have their charges achieve tranquility, it means that we were able to give you some sort of peace after death. Some who refuse to believe that they died and have too much regret end back up in the living world as demons, ghosts, and other paranormal things.

What is an agent you ask? Well, an agent is a grim reaper of sorts you meet your agent after death and we will explain what is happening. The sad thing is you will never be able to see us agents. Why? Well we were once like you, we once were people who had died and with our agents we were able to have tranquility and in turn become agents ourselves. We are the darkness, that is what we become. It does not matter what time, planet, or dimension you were born in all end up here, all races, creeds, and colors do as well.

Why are you reading this you ask well, you are already dead, I am sorry for being so blunt but it is true. I am your agent and I want you to understand and find your tranquility. You will view your life as an outsider, you won't be able to change anything I just want you to learn and accept that no matter what path in life you chose all will end up in the darkness.
